

Adaptation Difficulties of Refugee Children

These are some typical reactions of refugee children who are having difficulty adapting.

- Chronic sadness or symptoms of depression
- Extreme fear
- Separation anxiety that doesn't match their age
- Fear of school
- Bed-wetting
- Poor learning performance
- Learning disabilities
- Overly sensitive and aggressive
- Telling lies to gain sympathy
- Regressive behaviour
- Post-traumatic stress disorder

